

TRAINING AND CONSULTATION FOR EDUCATION

HOW TO TRANSITION TO THE COVID-19 'NEW NORMAL'

The impact of Covid-19 on individuals, community and culture within Education is unprecedented and profound. All those in Education face complex personal and professional challenges over the coming months and years as we all adapt to the 'New Normal'. At Beacon House, we believe that this opens the door to an opportunity for collaboration, learning, reflection and adaptability. Through this, we can become wiser and stronger than ever before.

Beacon House is a specialist, innovative and creative therapeutic service for children, families and adults. You can find out about our story, our ethos and the services available on our website: www.beaconhouse.org.uk.

As a service, we are passionate about enabling adults who work with, or care for, children to understand the impact of trauma, loss and adversity. We are committed to supporting adults become effective and pro-active in enabling the recovery from trauma, so that children and their families can thrive.

TRAINING AND CONSULTATION FOR EDUCATION

HOW TO TRANSITION TO THE COVID-19 'NEW NORMAL'

WHOLE STAFF TEAM MODULE 3 HOURS

Who is this for?

This module is for whole Education staff teams, including the SLT, Governors, teaching and support staff.

Learning Aims

- The impact of Covid-19 on all pupils with a special focus on trauma, loss and transition
- The additional impact of Covid-19 on vulnerable pupils, particularly those with earlier trauma and attachment disruptions
- Principles of engagement – how all staff can relate to pupils in a way which enables them to engage with learning and relationships.
- Practical strategies – what all staff can do to support pupils transition back into the school environment, and begin to thrive again
- The module will also include a range of bespoke resources

TESTIMONIALS

"Inspiring and practical training that I can use straight away. Essential training for anyone working with children and families." Social Worker

"What you have put together is truly awe inspiring and life changing! The positive way this will impact how I support young people personally and in my work with traumatised children is changing dramatically with hopefully more positive outcomes for all." Teacher

"Brilliantly paced and so well-balanced between theory and practice. I highly recommend it to anyone working with children." Counsellor
